Hi Cristina and Emilio,

I am still waiting to hear back from Howard about his availability for this afternoon. I know that both of you are busy today. So, if you'd like, we can try to coordinate a call for tomorrow or Monday, instead of today.

I know that Howard doesn't intend to publish this story until some time next week (or later). So, it's not absolutely imperative that he connect with you today. Please let me know if you all would prefer to set up a call with him for another day.

Thanks,

Ebony

Howard isn't available until tomorrow afternoon. I'll find out what time exactly, though.

Also, I don't know if he needs to speak with you tomorrow necessarily.

It’s possible that this can wait until Friday or even early next week.

Do you want to do earlier in the day? It’s the second day of school, and I am trying to visit the schools I didn’t get to today, so I won’t be able to talk for long.

Subject: <URGENT REQUEST> LAAC Voice re LA Times Co-Location Article

Emilio and Cristina,

Would either/both of you be able to talk to Howard Blume tomorrow regarding an article he is pulling together on co-locations? The topline is that we would love this article to be somewhat balanced, but also at least include some references to long-term facilities agreements as being a potential solution.

Ebony is leading the charge on this and can coordinate with you and Richard if either/both of you are willing to go on record from an overarching win-win for kids, long-term facilities perspective sometime tomorrow.

Let us know if you are open to it.

Thank you both,

Cassy
